

SOCIAL JUSTICE GRADUATE CERTIFICATE

Introduction

The Social Justice Program works to connect our campus to the Front Range community through internships, collaborative research with local partners, and by hosting speakers, trainings, and events that promote transformative dialogue and intellectual growth. We create learning opportunities that emphasize an integrated understanding the social, political, economic, and cultural dimensions of the major challenges facing humanity in the new millennium. By cultivating engaged and informed citizens, we seek to create future leaders who will have the skills and knowledge necessary to effect meaningful change.

Program Delivery

- This is a hybrid program, with courses on-campus and online.

Admissions and Declaring this Certificate

Students may be enrolled as a CU Denver graduate student in any discipline, or as a CU Denver non-degree seeking graduate student with a bachelor's degree.

International students must submit TOEFL scores or otherwise satisfy the University's English Language Proficiency requirement.

These program requirements are subject to periodic revision by the academic department, and the College of Liberal Arts and Sciences reserves the right to make exceptions and substitutions as judged necessary in individual cases. Therefore, the College strongly urges students to consult regularly with their Social Justice faculty advisor to confirm the best plans of study before finalizing them.

For more information about the Social Justice Graduate Certificate, please email the Dr. Margaret Woodhull: Margaret.Woodhull@ucdenver.edu

Graduate Education Policies and Procedures apply to this program.
