Overview

With two pathways to honors, you can choose the program which best fits your educational journey.

Both the Honors Scholars Program (HSP) and the University Honors and Leadership (UHL) Program provide honors-level education and have unique benefits. As part of the UHL program, you will join a supportive cohort with other honors students and complete dedicated coursework together, while the Honors Scholars Program allows for more flexible learning options that you design around your passions and goals.

Each program is aimed to help you achieve your educational goals by developing your talents and feeding your intellectual curiosity.
